ON THE CAMP GROUNDS.

Interesting Services Yesterday—A Sermon on Christ.

REV. MESSRS. BORING AND STUART

Preach Eloquent Discourses—The Children, Under Mrs. Bell's Leadership, Set a Good Example for Their Elders—The Young People's Meeting one of the Best Services of the Meeting.

Yesterday was a delightful day at the camp grounds. A fine breeze was blowing all day, and a little shower the evening before served to brighten up the grounds after the crowd of Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Grims conducted the morning class, which seems to be improving in number and interest.

At 10:30 a. m. Rev. John Boring preached to a very attentive audience on the character of Christ. The sermon showed him to be master of his subject and well acquainted with scriptural.

The character of Christ was the standard to which all Christian character should conform, and in so far as we are deviated from that line so far we are away from our true position in life. After speaking at some length on this subject, he then turned to the subject of the character of a young man's character. This he showed to be contrary to the law of God, and brought its punishment in a race of men united to be husbands of Christian women.

He also spoke of the spirit and forgiveness which Jesus manifested, and said we often hinder the work of God by not giving place to it. He cited the case of a brother and sister who had been on bad terms for six years, but under the influence went to the altar of repentance the same hour, and forgiving each other, were forgiven by God, and this happy settlement was the beginning of better times, spiritually, in that vicinity.

The morning sermon broke up with a general hand shaking and the inauguration of an era of general good feeling.

Mrs. Bell and the children had a good time in the temple at 2 p. m. The little ones turn out in large numbers and take an active part in the services, and manifest a spirit of general usefulness that some of the older ones might copy with profit and advantage.

Those who failed to attend the young people's meeting in the afternoon missed one of the best services of the ground this season. Rev. George Stuart led the meeting, and it was exceedingly helpful to all present. To-day he will again have charge, and everybody should be present if possible.

Rev. Mr. Stuart will remain for the rest of the meeting and preach on Sabbath next.

Hon. N. D. Scott and Family Home.

Hon. N. D. Scott and wife and son Guy got home yesterday from a tour of six months to the Pacific coast. Mr. Scott and son returned in the morning, but Mr. Scott stopped at Cambridge to attend to some business and got in last night. He and his wife spent most of their time in Southern California looking after mining investments, while Guy was down in old Mexico for about three months. Mr. Scott looks very well, but was too tired to talk much about his summer's experience. They came much of the way home on trains guarded by United States troops, on account of the strike. Mr. Scott says the hard times have not been as severely felt where he was as farther north and east, as most of the residents are well-to-do.

Sixth Ward Republican Club.

A very well attended meeting of the Sixth ward Republican club was held last evening in its hall. Some important business was first attended to, J. H. Burt, the chairman, presiding, and then Hon. Alex. R. Campbell made a strong and eloquent speech, which was well received. He presented the issues clearly and forcibly, and was frequently interrupted by applause. Col. Jacob Kemple also spoke. He was received with enthusiasm. The genial colonel was at his best and made a fine brief address as he ever did in Wheeling. He carried the audience with him, and was warmly congratulated when he finished. It was a meeting, taken all in all, of which the club has great reason to be proud.

Arrests by the Police.

Last night Susan Monaghan's house of ill fame, on the South Side, was raided by Officers Trischler, Donavin and Moran, and the proprietress, seven girls and three men were arrested.

John Smith was the name given by a man arrested by Habersfield for disorderly conduct in the Sixth ward.

William Manning was put in by Devlin on the same charge.

Nellie White's house was raided by Officers Daum and Rotilo, and she and three girls and three men arrested.

Local Board of Health.

Yesterday the county board of health met and went out to Fulton in response to a petition from there for better sanitary conditions. They were met with the statement by the mayor that the town had its own health committee. Steps were taken to prevent the feeding of milk cows on swill and garbage.

A Mountsville Man's Grievance.

Pittsburgh Post, Monday.
R. P. Fink, the Mountsville, W. Va., horse dealer, who was arrested Saturday night because he offered an animal at a great bargain, will have revenge. After his discharge by Police Magistrate Doherty he swore out a warrant for the arrest of James Dugan and Owen Fitzsimmons, the horse dealers who caused his arrest. He charges them with illegally taking his horse and holding it.

ALL READY FOR THE FAIR.

Report of the Secretary Presented to the Directors Yesterday.

The board of directors of the West Virginia State Fair Association held a meeting yesterday. The secretary made a general report, which showed that the buildings, stalls and grounds have all been put in first class order, that the prospects for a large and fine exhibit in all the departments are better than last year's, and that the attendance will be great, for the railways entering the city have made a very cheap rate for the week of the fair.

The fair is confidently expected to exceed in all respects any preceding one, and the only thing that could interfere with its entire success would be bad weather.

The new buildings, gate, ticket office, etc., to take the place of the structures destroyed by fire are nearing completion. The work will be done this week. The new arrangement gives increased room for hitching horses and leaving vehicles, something that has been really needed.

All the departments this year will be in the hands of well-known, reliable and expert judges, and as has been the case always in the past the awards will be certain to give general satisfaction.

SOCIETY HAPPENINGS.

The Lull in Social Circles Broken by Several Events to Come.

The midsummer lull in society will be broken to-morrow afternoon, when a wedding of note will occur in the Jewish temple, on Eoff street. The contracting parties are Mr. Jacob L. Kraus, a prominent and prosperous young merchant of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Rosamond Rosenberg, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. Victor Rosenberg, one of Wheeling's most substantial and respected business men. The prospective bride is a favorite here, and her many friends will regret to hear the couple will reside in Baltimore. However, what is Wheeling's loss is the gain of Baltimore. The ceremony will occur at 2 p. m. Rev. Rabbi Bonheim officiating. A reception will occur at the residence of the bride's parents, 1107 Chapline street, from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. Joseph O'Hare, the popular policeman at the Island house, and Miss Maggie Hildebrand, a well known young lady of Etanville, were married at the Cathedral yesterday. The affair was attended by only the immediate relatives of the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. O'Hare went to housekeeping at 1107 Zano street.
